COLD & FLU

Achoo!

Don't forget to cover your mouth and nose when you sneeze.

Mommy, I don't feel good.

I'm sorry to hear that, Pengy. Tell me how you feel.

HIDDEN WORD

How do you think Pengy feels?

Color all the horizontal striped letters to uncover the answer.

Write your answer here.

I sneeze all the time. My nose is runny. I feel tired.

And your head seems warm. It looks like you might have a cold.

Oh no!

It's alright, dear. You'll feel better in no time.

A cold is caused by a virus. Viruses are tiny, living things that can only be seen under a microscope. Rhinovirus is one common virus that causes the cold. Signs of a rhinovirus infection are runny nose, stuffy nose, and sneezing.

SMART FACT:

There are over 200 different viruses that cause colds.

Pengy, I'm taking you to the doctor today.

Why, Mommy?

Well, the doctor will check to make sure you don't have the flu.

What's the flu?

A-MAZING

Sometimes, it's hard to tell the difference between a cold and the flu.
Find your way through the maze to learn signs that can help tell you that you might have the flu.

How do you catch the flu?

The flu, like a cold, is caused by viruses. You can catch the flu when you touch things that sick people have touched and then you touch your eyes, nose, or mouth.

SMART FACT:

Signs of a cold show up slowly, while signs of the flu appear all of a sudden.

MAKE A MATCH

People usually get sick from a cold or the flu in certain months of the year. Read the clues and draw a line from the numbered clues at the top and bottom of the page to the months that match when cold and flu season occurs.

1. First day of Spring
2. Thanksgiving
3. April Fool's Day
4. Valentine cards
5. Santa Claus
6. First month of the year

The flu is different than a cold.

It is more serious and can create other problems like pneumonia. That's why people get flu shots (or vaccines) before the flu season starts to keep them from getting the flu.

SMART FACT:

Unlike colds, only a few viruses cause the flu.

Germs like cold and flu viruses can make us really sick. Here are some good germ-stopping habits you can practice to stop the spread of germs:

Cough and sneeze into a tissue or your elbow (not your hands).

Wash your hands often with soap and warm water.

Use sanitizing gel or wipes.

Don't share forks, spoons, and cups.

Stay away from people when you're sick.

Don't use the same towel as someone who is sick.

What's Different?

It's easy to pass germs from one person to the next,
so wash after play to keep the germs away.

Find five differences in the following pictures.
